

Fishing the River Wye

With Angling Dreams

www.anglingdreams.co.uk

The River Wye, particularly in this area, is a popular venue for visiting fishermen due to its quality and quantity of fish. Riffles and deep holding pools attract a variety of species including barbel to 12lbs, chub to 5lbs, large shoals of dace, bleak, perch and some very large pike! There are even the occasional trout and grayling popping up in catch reports. Salmon fishing is possible but the correct permits should be sought before fishing for them. All anglers should look no further than Angling Dreams for numerous mouthwatering opportunities for a variety of species, all within a short distance of the Royal Lodge. Open season for coarse fishing is from the 16th June and 14th March. EA rod licenses are required and can be obtained from local post office in Goodrich. They can also be purchased on-line from the Environment Agency website. Please refer to the Environment Agency byelaws as these apply to the River Wye.

The Royal Lodge guests must contact reception for information on booking their fishing, which must be booked in advance of arrival, subject to availability.
